

WOMAN MURDERED IN GOLDEN GATE PARK

MILLIONS IN THE VAULTS Hibernia Bank Can Stand Any Run and Will Pay Dollar for Dollar.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The uneasiness among the more timid depositors of the Hibernia Savings Bank continued this forenoon, and when the bank opened its doors for business there was a long line of people waiting to withdraw their deposits. This condition had been anticipated by the officials of the institution, and an increased force of paying-tellers was on hand to meet the unusual demands. As on yesterday, the bank waived the required notice of thirty days and paid all orders on demand. The line was handled expeditiously, but new-comers swelled the list of applicants, and at one time it was estimated that there were fully 2000 people anxious to withdraw their funds from the vaults. It was announced that the bank was in no wise discommoded by the unusual drain upon it and the celebrity with which the paying-tellers dispatched the people in the line gave color to the assertion. The bank had seemingly plenty of coin on hand to pay in full many times the amount represented by the lined-up depositors.

CAUSE OF RUN.

The cause of the run is still obscure. One theory that finds favor is that the uneasiness has been created by the disgruntled agents of the insurance companies

KILLED BY A TRAIN

Hugh W. Brunck Will be Hon. J. R. Knowland's Opponent in Third District.

BY JOSEPH E. BAKER.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—Hugh W. Brunck, the Democratic nominee for congress in the Third district, is a citizen of Berkeley, residing on Carleton street. He is a lawyer, with an office in the Blake-Moffitt building, Oakland. Mr. Brunck is a native of Iowa, but was educated at Richmond College, Richmond, Virginia, and for some years practiced his profession in Louisville, Kentucky. He came to California a few years ago, and for a time was located in Santa Rosa. A little more than two years ago he purchased a home in Berkeley and opened an office in Oakland. He has a wife and children.

"I have never sought office in my life," said Mr. Brunck to THE TRIBUNE correspondent, "and had no idea

BELL IS TO GO ON THE TICKET

He Gets the Democratic Nomination; No Opposition.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

BY JOSEPH E. BAKER.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—This convention is slow—terribly slow—but it is as impulsive as a child, sure sign that it is not under the direction of some controlling mind. At one moment the delegates are palpitating with hope, and the next shivering with apprehension.

They have three terrors before them continually, Hearst, Ruef and McNab. No matter whichway they turn they run into a bogie man, who will eat them up as a schoolgirl would chocolate drops. For that reason the convention is likely to be stamped with the wild yarns of such false alarms as "Jewberry Jones" and "Willy Jacobs," who apparently scared R. M. Fitzgerald from defeat yesterday by making fool speeches in favor of White.

An apprehension of being unconsciously led by some boss or corporation attorney, the delegates huddle in the street and hotel lobbies, talking things over, and are reluctant to act. Hence the wearisome drag on the proceedings. Late yesterday afternoon and last night Jaspar Dockweller got something of a Phelan boom going, on the representation that Charlie Fay had sent up a telegram saying Phelan would run if nominated with practical unanimity. This telegram was only Fay's personal opinion, given in response to an inquiry. When the facts became known the Phelan boom subsided this morning almost as suddenly as Dockweller inflated it.

BELL'S POSITION.

Bell's nomination was the logical result of Phelan's refusal to run and the proscription of Langdon on account of Hearst. Marshall Diggs remained a candidate to the last in his mind, though deserted by his delegates. They are trying to hand him a consolation prize in the shape of a nomination for Congress against Duncan McKinley. He will not accept, neither will Arthur Seymour, so it looks as if Duncan would have easy going instead of the fight of his life for re-election.

The hand of Ruef is plainly in this convention. The efforts of the boss are directed to defeating Langdon's nomination and getting Bell out of McKinley's way in the Second district. Apparently he desired it to be known that he was working in the convention.

LIVELY FELLOW.

Billy Bell, who created the disturbance during the roll call on chairman, is one of Ruef's Republican State committeemen. He smashed Ruef and distinguished himself by pulling old Jasper McDonald's whiskers. The appearance on the scene of Police Commissioner Hager, Civil Service Commissioner Devoto, MacArthur of the Coast Seamen's Union, Twelfth of the Building Trades Council and other of the Schmidt-Ruef henchmen, talking against Langdon and advocating Bell's nomination tells its own story. Devoto was talking easily of "my delegation," alluding to the colonized push that defeated Gavin McNab, Judge Maguire and W. M. Cannon at the primary election. Devoto is a Republican and was formerly a member of the Assembly. "Billy" Bell shouted out on the floor of the convention that he would throw the Thirtieth district delegates into the street when they returned to San Francisco for disobeying his orders.

OTHER NOMINATIONS.

Diggs and Langdon formally withdrew from the contest this morning, leaving Bell the field to himself. John E. Baker, notorious for his rough and tumble ways, of the Modoc Lynchers, will run for Congressman in the First district. He is Clintonian, though the other motions of opposing him in the Fourth, James H. Wilson, former prison director, will run for railroad commissioner in the San Francisco district. A man named Hubbard, from Shasta, is selected for the sacrifice in the northern district. Judge Dooling of San Benito, wants to run for presiding judge of the appellate court against Carroll Cook, but Judge Cooper is slated for the nomination. If Judge Cooper will accept, he and Judge Hall will be named for associate justices. Errorts are being made by the Warren committee to the best of their knowledge, but he has not consented. The platform was not finished till five o'clock this morning. It is as long as the Book of Job and quite as sorrowful. Everything in this country is rotten, and the long list of

ESCORT NOW IN CITY JAIL

He Will Have to Answer a Serious Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Mrs. James Thompson, the young wife of J. Parker Thompson of the Gordon tailoring establishment at 1022 Ellis street, was found this morning at three o'clock in Golden Gate Park with her skull fractured. Peter Bandino, her escort, was taken into custody by the police. It is not known whether or not a murderous assault was made on the woman. According to Bandino, Mrs. Thompson and he dined at a restaurant on Golden Gate avenue, after which they went to the Chutes. After the first show was over, they took a stroll in Golden Gate Park.

LEFT THE WOMAN.

Bandino left Mrs. Thompson for a few minutes, and says when he returned she was lying on the ground, bleeding from the nose. He says he seated himself beside her and waited for her to regain consciousness. He stayed there from 9:30 last evening until 10 o'clock this morning, when he was discovered by three young men—John Adams, Ralph Bush and Harry Stribe. Bandino allowed himself to be taken into custody by the three men.

ALARM GIVEN.

The Park Hospital was notified that a dead woman was lying on the bridal path near the Casino. Dr. McGinty of the hospital went to the place designated and found Mrs. Thompson in a serious condition. The police are making a thorough investigation and a murder charge may be the result.

The woman has a very poor chance of recovery.

Issues presented range from an endorsement of Roosevelt to a denunciation of Abe Ruef. The woman suffragists were turned down as they were at Santa Cruz.

John Edward Rainey of Santa Barbara county will be nominated for clerk of the Supreme Court. He is chairman of the Democratic County Committee and was Martin leader of the class of '98' State University. He is editor of the Santa Barbara News. Harry Greene has been nominated for Congress in the Fifth District against Needham.

MAYOR MOTT ANXIOUS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SEWERS

At a meeting of the City Council last night an ordinance was introduced providing for the purchase of more land for park purposes in the vicinity of Lake Merritt. In order to expedite the sale of sewer bonds, the Council suspended the rules and passed to print the ordinance which provides for the disposal of the bonds. At the meeting of the Council, sitting as the Board of Equalization, Edward Newland asserted that the value fixed on his property by Expert Calden was absurd. Much other business was transacted.

TO PURCHASE MORE LAND FOR PARK PURPOSES NEAR LAKE.

The Measure Provides for the Appropriation of Eleven Thousand Dollars.

An ordinance was introduced into the City Council, which convened last night, providing for the purchase of more land for park purposes in the vicinity of Lake Merritt. The measure provides for the appropriation of $11,000 for the purchase of the land.

The property which it is proposed to purchase under the provisions of the ordinance, is a strip thirty feet wide near the northeast corner of Lake Merritt and along Lake Shore avenue.

In the event of the passage of the ordinance the money will be taken from the park and boulevard fund as follows: $1,000 before July, 1907; $7,000 before July, 1908, and $3,000 before July, 1909.

The Council passed a resolution providing for the readvertising for bids for the grading, curbing and macadamizing of the southerly half of Forty-eighth street.

Chief of Police Wilson's report on the number of licensed saloons now in operation in this city, which showed that there are 281 drink emporiums here, was referred to the license committee.

The financial reports of the two departments of the police court show that in August $100,650 in fines were collected in department one and $720 in department two.

About twelve residents of Cypress Street filed a petition asking that the width of the sidewalks on the west side of Cypress street, between Third and Seventh streets, be reduced to six feet. The same petitioners also asked that the sidewalks on the east side of Cypress street, between Third and Seventh streets, be abolished. The petition was referred to the street committee.

The contract for the grading, curbing and macadamizing of the east sixty-one feet of the Lake Merritt boulevard, from Eighteenth street to Lake avenue, was awarded to the Piedmont Paving Company.

The Central Pacific Railway Company filed a petition asking for permission to lay a spur track in Cypress street, between Third and Seventh streets. The petition was referred to the street railway committee.

City Engineer Turner recommended that a levee be built south of the Twelfth-street dam, between Twelfth and Eighth streets, and that dirt be secured to fill in behind the levee. The matter was referred to the park and boulevard committee.

The following resolutions were referred to the street committee:

To sewer Dover street, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets.

To extend curb for the severing of Fifty-first street, from Shafter street to Lawton avenue, and West Moss avenue to twenty-five feet north of Forty-first street.

To grade, curb and macadamize Sixty-second and other streets in the Clarendon district.

DECLARES HE IS NOT INSANE

W. B. Wilson Will Fight Attempt to Send Him to Asylum

"Dr." W. B. Wilson, who styles himself a human mechanic, is a prisoner in the insane ward of the Receiving Hospital, awaiting an examination as to his sanity. Wilson was removed from his residence, 768 Ninth street, late yesterday afternoon in compliance with an order issued by Judge F. E. Ogden, of the Superior Court.

The complaining witness against the healer is his sister, Mary, who declared that on August 20 he threatened to kill her by catching her around the body and attempting to choke her to death. His efforts failed, but he succeeded in thrusting her from the room, in addition to this incident Miss Wilson stated that her brother was addicted to hallucinations in which he imagines himself a great artist or a second Edison and Tesla. What few patients he had had are said to be of his profession have brought him in no income, although he keeps an advertisement running daily proclaiming a wonderful cure of paralysis that he accomplished in this city.

Wilson, when seen by a Tribune representative this morning displayed at times that he was rational, but there can be little doubt that he is mentally unbalanced. He occupied his time in the cell last night drawing pictures that would have driven a Whistler crazy.

Wilson is an native of Ohio, but came to this state from Goodland, Indiana, about ten years ago to take care of his sister, Mary, who is subject to spells of insanity. During my residence in Oakland I believe I have built up for myself an enviable reputation, and refer you to Professor Sablak, 625 Telegraph Avenue, or to Dr. Baker of the First Presbyterian church, of which congregation I am a member. It is not true that I attempted to kill my sister or even threaten her life. I am fifty-nine years of age, and I make my living by my profession. I am a human mechanic. When an automobile gets out of order the chauffeur is obliged to examine all the parts before he can ascertain the cause of the trouble. Well, I am to the human body what the chauffeur is to the auto. He makes the machine go. I make the man go."

Wilson will probably be brought into the Superior Court tomorrow for his examination.

HOSTLER MEETS WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT

A. Frazier, a hostler employed by the People's Express, met with a painful accident this morning while backing a wagon into the company's yard. The pole he was handling suddenly slipped and he was thrown, headfirst, against a nearby wall, crushing the index finger. His injury was dressed at the receiving hospital. Frazier lives at 863 Washington street.

John Schultz or "Jack" Schultz, as he is more familiarly known to his legion of friends that he has made during his eighteen months' sojourn in this city, left for his old home in Lafayette, Indiana, this morning to reside indefinitely. Mr. Schultz while in Oakland demonstrated the fact that he is one of the Nestors of mixologists and his valuable services were eagerly sought after. Mr. Schultz leaves here with the good wishes of a large circle of acquaintances who regret his departure and who cherish the hope that he may soon return to Oakland, where he is so popularly known.

Mrs. Rose Silva, aged 50, a resident of Melrose, was taken to the receiving hospital this morning by Constable Tom Carroll and locked up in the insane ward. Joe Silva, the woman's husband, stated that she attempted to kill him yesterday morning, when she grew extremely violent.

Rival in St. Louis.

STILL SHE WILL FORGIVE.

"He's No Worse Than Other
Rich Men, Only He Was Caught."

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The following story concerns a beautiful woman who has relatives in Oakland and San Francisco.

Fast upon the heels of the disclosure of the secret marriage two years ago of William Sanderson Brown and the beautiful widow, Mrs. Katherine Ballou-Watrous came rumors of matrimonial disturbances which are sufficient according to Mrs. Brown to give her freedom from the millionaire.

But she will forgive her husband and not sue for divorce, she emphatically stated yesterday afternoon in speaking of the marriage and the exciting events that have followed in its wake.

"Now, before I say a word more to you," said Mrs. Brown yesterday, "let me get your promise that you will correct the statement that I am about to sue my husband for a divorce. I have no intention of doing so even though he has proven himself untrustworthy and a rascal."

The secret marriage took place in Jersey City. Mr. Brown admitted August 13, 1901 before Justice O'Keefe, for several reasons it was kept quiet by an agreement between the two. "Since I have caught my husband carrying on in such a highbrow fashion with another woman I do not think our agreement is of any moment," said the 17-year-old woman as she rested among big, soft set pillows in her elegant apartment yesterday afternoon at No. 617 Madison Avenue.

"Tell me how you developed into such a remarkable Mrs. Sherlock Holmes," was her query, "and how you happened to find out about your husband's attention to the other woman?"

NO WORSE THAN OTHERS'

Well, I was somewhat of a detective, I'll admit, but I found out what I was looking for that is the hard part of it. I don't believe my husband is bad as he is, in worse than other men of wealth or social position in New York, but he was found out and that is the difference.

"Believe me, I am not vindictive but when I saw that woman riding down Fifth Avenue in an electric carriage last Friday—even though she had on two veils and sat well back, I recog-itized her as a woman who had smiled at my husband on the Cetlhe a few weeks ago when Mr. Brown and I were returning from Europe. It was that smile that first awakened suspicion in my mind.

I had noticed a large dark woman sitting on deck for several days on our trip across. She seemed to be traveling alone. I found out no one knew her. One night when my husband and myself were coming out of the dining saloon, I caught her smiling at him. Then she glanced at me as if to say "What a fool she is not to know!"

I knew there was something wrong and took my husband to task. He denied flirting with the woman whom he had found out was registered on ship as Mrs. Douglas Courtney of London. I knew I was not mistaken.

"Believe me, I am not vindictive but when I saw that woman riding down Fifth Avenue in an electric carriage last Friday—even though she had on two veils and sat well back, I recog-

LET HIM GO ALONE.

"A few days after our return my husband came in one evening and said, 'Dearie, I have to go to Chicago for six days and on business.' Since our marriage we have always accompanied him everywhere, so I was taken at least twenty-five trips with him in that time, and I was very much surprised when he added that he would go alone. It is for such a short time and strictly business,' he told me. And I let him go. Nevertheless, that smile I still remembered. I consulted detective, and had him trace my husband. In the meantime my husband telephoned me from Philadelphia, 'Just leaving dear B.'

"The next day from Chicago I received this reassuring message: 'Good morning, dear, haven't you got the

THE OFFICERS.

The committee on order of business reported the recommending that the temporary officers be made the permanent officers and that the report of the committee on resolutions be read, find that the nomination of Congressman follow and that the Congressional committee on purity of elections be then appointed.

RESOLUTIONS.

W. R. Davis of the committee on resolutions reported as follows and the report which was read by Dr. Harry Travers, secretary of the convention, was unanimous in its adoption:

"The Republicans of the Third Congressional district of the State of California, in convention assembled, to nominate a candidate to represent this district in the national Congress affirm the principles and aims of the declaration of independence."

"Whereas, this country is now enjoying an unexampled era of prosperity through policies determined by the national legislature and carried out by the chief executive of the nation, and therefore—

"Resolved, that we endorse the administration of that peerless and thorough American, Theodore Roosevelt and realize the necessity of sustaining him in the legislative branch of government by voting for him in the election to come.

"Resolved, that we approve the state administration of Governor George C. Pardee as one that has been economical and able, meeting great emergencies and generally conserving the interests of the people of California.

"Resolved, to force the platform of the State Republican Convention to contine promulgated at Santa Cruz, and pledge our hearty support to the state ticket headed by that distinguished Californian and earnest Republican, the Hon. J. R. Thompson, representing him where he is situated, and his state, in its legislative halls and representing it in the national congress, to become its chief executive in the gubernatorial capacity.

"Resolved, that we recognize the effective services rendered California by

"That settled it. I packed my suit case and was off for St. Louis. At the Planters' hotel I found things just as I knew I would—the two were registered as man and wife. There was a score. My husband begged and implored me to say nothing and to come back to him. I relented and we came back to New York but not before he had given the Carmelite woman money to start her expenses. I can't leave that woman here stranded and so just let me give her a check' was what he said to me. They both claimed they had mutual friends in London and tried to make me believe it was just the chance meeting of friends, but I remembered that smile and so let the woman know what I thought of her. Before I left St. Louis she promised never again to have anything to do with Mr. Brown. I was pacified and came home with Mr. Brown happy once more. That was two weeks ago.

STRIKES HER ACROSS FACE.

"On Friday last I was driving down Fifth avenue, when, in an electric brougham, sitting away back and with two thick veils over her face, I spied the woman with the smile. I followed her, for she didn't see me, and just as the brougham reached the curb of the Eighteenth street Subway station my husband came out of the Subway and was about to climb in beside Mrs. Carnegie when I stepped up. When Mr. Brown saw me he ran and bounded a car. Mrs. Carnegie stepped out of the car, and began beseeching me to spare her. For answer I struck her across her face."

Mrs. Brown is a remarkable looking woman with deep lustrous brown eyes and a splendid figure. She is considered one of the handsomest women in the city. She figured before the public some years ago as the widow of Walter W. Watrous. Their secret marriage was not made public until she claimed the widow's share of the estate, which was granted to her after the matter had been taken to the court by the other heirs.

Her first husband was Stephen Winchester Ballou, a old Revolutionary family. She met and married him in Colorado Springs, where he died shortly after, leaving her $50,000.

Our representatives in the United States Senator George C. Perkins, through his long term of service, his established relations with his colleagues and the recognition accorded him by those at the head of the national administration in Washington, command your full and hearty appreciation of the duties, requirements and limitations of his office, and both together through their record in all things that look to the benefit or advantage of California.

Resolved, that we renew our pledges to and reiterate our admiration for the steadfast young Republican, Hon. J. E. Knowland, who now represents this district in the House of Representatives.

Our faith in him expressed in convention two years ago, has been amply justified in his achievements at the national capital during the term that he has served there.

He has been the chief mover in putting into force the policy of sound government, which has been a mainstay of the nation for many years.

He has well in hand all legislation and contingent appropriations regarding Oakland's harbor, water front, etc.

He has done much of vast importance that had been foreseen, even by the most sanguine. He has taken due action in all the important matters affecting his district, state and the Pacific coast, and has helped his colleagues in the national administration in securing the ends that are desirable and which he accepts as his mission—has been accepted by the members of his delegation.

Resolved, that we pledge our support to the county and legislative tickets, realizing that their success strengthens the hands of those who work for the people and the cause of progress.

We pledge our support to our candidate for congress, to make common cause for the Republican ticket-state, district, county and township.

The mention of Mr. Knowland's name was greeted with cheer.

Chairman Birmingham then called for Senator Perkins and the Senator received an ovation as he walked to the front of the hall.

SENATOR PERKINS.

"Although not having the honor of being a delegate to this convention," said Senator Perkins, "I could not resist the temptation of coming to this convention. I want to say that I want to endorse the record of Congressman Knowland. I speak advisedly. Through your shiftings, I have had the honor of spending fourteen years in Congress. At that time, there has been no young man who has come there who has attained so much influence as Congressman Knowland."

The Senator then continued and paid an eloquent tribute to Congressman Knowland.

Frank Devlin of Vallejo then eloquently and forcibly placed Mr. Knowland in nomination for Congressman of the Third district.

The nomination was seconded by Judge Doheny of Pleasanton, George D. McElroy of Berkely, George Carne of Alameda, Senator Belshaw of Contra Costa, and W. R. Davis of Oakland.

Every reference to Congressman Knowland was greeted with bursts of applause.

On motion of Everett Brown of Oakland, the nominations were closed and a unanimous vote was taken.

The nomination of Judge Doheny was seconded by Judge George D. McElroy of Berkely, George Carne of Alameda, Senator Belshaw of Contra Costa, and W. R. Davis of Oakland.

GERMAN PRINCE MAY NOT LIVE

Albrecht, Richest Man in Prussia is Stricken With Apoplexy.

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—The condition of Albrecht, Prince of Prussia, regent of the Duchy of Brunswick, is worse today and there is little likelihood of his recovery. The prince had a stroke of apoplexy yesterday.

Albrecht is the richest prince in Germany. In addition to the possession of many large estates, he is reputed to have investments totalling $15,000,000. His fortune in Germany is second only to that of Miss Krupp, daughter of the late gunmaker. The regency of Brunswick, which is one of the Emperor's appointments, probably will be given to Prince Eitel Frederick, the second son of his majesty.

MADE AN ATTACK ON CHORUS GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—A. B. Fately, who conducts a riding academy at 1228 Grove street, Oakland, swore to a warrant yesterday before Judge Conlan for the arrest of Theodore Nordrup, a mate on board the Russian steamer Tordenskjold, lately arrived from Java, on a charge of battery on the person of Miss Lillian Barrington, one of the chorus girls of the Weber New York company.

Nordrup is alleged to have made an attack on Miss Lillian Barrington while she and Fately, who acted as her escort, were riding horseback down Market street. The attack is alleged to have taken place September 9th, about 9 o'clock in the evening. Miss Barrington fell to the ground, turning to Oakland after a ride to the beach, and when about six blocks from home, Nordrup ran up beside Miss Barrington, and, taking hold of her, tried to pull her from the saddle. Miss Barrington cried out, and Fately, her escort, spurred around to the side and forced Nordrup to get back. For some reason Nordrup seemed determined to pull the woman from the saddle, and ran around to the other side of her horse, again laying violent hands on her. Fately then attacked the man and succeeded in beating him off.

All this is set forth in an affidavit made by Miss Barrington before her departure for New York on September 10th before Notary John J. Burke of Oakland.

MON. O'REILLEY IS GETTING OLD

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—Monsignor O'Reilly, historian of two Popes—Pius IX and Leo XIII—and protonotary apostolic, was 85 years of age yesterday. He is said to be the oldest living Catholic prelate on this side of the Atlantic. Monsignor O'Reilly is staying in the castle on the grounds of St. Vincent's on the Hudson and is attended by the nuns and Dr. Maguire of New Rochelle. He has been at St. Vincent's for six years and, although he was relieved by Pope Leo from all priestly obligations, he has frequently said mass since. Archbishop Farley is kept informed daily of his condition. Although he was very weak yesterday there was nothing alarming in his condition. The nuns and attending physicians, however, have little hope that he will live much longer.

CONTESTANTS HAVE THEIR OWN WAY

DENVER, Sept. 12.—The first order of business before the Democratic State convention on reconvening today was the majority report of the committee on credentials unseating the delegation from Arapahoe county, headed by Mayor Robert W. Speer and composed of supporters of the city administration, and recommending admission of the contesting delegation chosen by supporters of United States Senators Patterson and Teller and other Democrats opposed to corporation domination.

After a hard fight, lasting until midnight last night, the committee on credentials voted 30 to 21 to unseat the Speer delegates and the majority report is based on this action. The Denver contest has overshadowed the contest for offices and has precipitated a bitter struggle in the convention.

REV. CHETWOOD DIES AT PACIFIC GROVE

PACIFIC GROVE, Sept. 12—After a few days' illness the Rev. Hobart Chetwood, formerly rector of Trinity Church, San Francisco, passed away last evening. The Rev. Hobart Chetwood was born Elizabeth, N. J. in 1830, coming to California in 1871 and until well known in the State and the East, having charge in the Rev. John Fulton's church St. Louis, St. Pauls, Oakland, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Riverside, San Bernardino and Pacific Grove, where he was active in the work of the Episcopalian church for thirty-two years. One son, John Chetwood, attorney-at-law of San Francisco, survives him.

C. P. KIEL RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

C. P. Kiel of the Kiel & Evans Carriage Company has returned from a three week's business trip to St. Louis, Mo., and South Bend, Ind. Mr. Kiel's trip was solely one to purchase goods in cars which are selling as fast as he can get them. He has made arrangements with the big wagon and carriage company at South Bend to utilize and have shipped back their entire outfit for the next six months. That means the great demand in Oakland and vicinity for goods in the carriage and wagon line. The Kiel & Evans Company are now located in their new building at the corner of Third and Franklin streets, and their trade has grown to mammoth proportions.

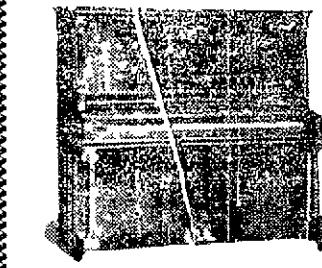

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers—consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves would now be well. Mrs. S. EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 12—Correspondence of the Herald report that recent rains between Tuxpan and Colima, Mexico, caused vast slides on the Manzanillo extension of the Mexican Central railroad. The towns of Mexicaltlan and Tuxpan, on the Santiago river, have been practically washed away and scores of persons are homeless and suffering.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, chronic kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Lydia E. Pinkham, early in her career, gave an exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney trouble.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing-down pains, scalding or burning sensations or deposits in the urine, unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the nose or sharp pains in the back, running through the groin, she may infer that her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is:

Mrs. Samuel Frake, of Prospect Plains, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I cannot thank you enough for what Lydia

REGISTRATION DATE FIXED

Study-List Committee of Faculty Will Close Books After September 14.

BERKELEY, Sept. 12.—The date of registration at the University of California has been set by the study-list committee of the faculty as September 14, after which all late-comers will be barred.

Every student should now be certain that his enrollment with his instructors is registered exactly with his study-list card at the recorder's office. The regulations require:

First, that the student be held accountable for the completion of every course registered with the recorder; second, that the credit be given for any course or registration taken without such registration. Registration must take place at the beginning of the half-year in which the work is actually done. Applications for credit on the basis of work done during the year must be filed with the recorder as soon as possible, and not later than eighteen months after entrance. Application for matriculation or college credit on the basis of examinations at the university without attendance and without payment of fees is to be made at the recorder's office before the work of preparation for the proposed examinations is undertaken. See Register, 1905-06, page 71.

The addition of courses after Friday, September 12, will not prevent the study-list committee, except for extraordinary reasons such as uniformly high scholarship, and unusual preparation for the course to be added. The removal of deficiencies after September 14 will not qualify a student to registration this half-year, nor for the addition of courses.

RECORDER TO WAGE FIGHT

Judge Black of Hayward Says Attempt to Oust Him is Illegal.

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 12.—Judge John Black yesterday reiterated his previous declaration that he will oppose the nomination of the City Trustees of San Leandro, declaring the office of city recorder abolished. Black intends to retain possession of the books, documents, and all other instruments belonging to the office, which he has held for some time, and states positively that he will take the matter to the state if necessary.

The resolution in question was adopted at a special meeting of the trustees, which Black believes to have been illegal. Black alleges that the meeting was held at a time when he himself was engaged in his duties as recorder, that he was not invited to the board room at the meeting, and that members present are hostile to him and that action was the result of malice.

What course will be pursued by the trustees is not known. Meanwhile Black occupies his old office and keeps himself busy as city recorder.

MINSTREL TO SETTLE DOWN

"Billy" Bray, After Many Seasons of Triumph in East, to Live in Berkeley.

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 12.—Judge John Black yesterday reiterated his previous declaration that he will oppose the nomination of the City Trustees of San Leandro, declaring the office of city recorder abolished. Black intends to retain possession of the books, documents, and all other instruments belonging to the office, which he has held for some time, and states positively that he will take the matter to the state if necessary.

The resolution in question was adopted at a special meeting of the trustees, which Black believes to have been illegal. Black alleges that the meeting was held at a time when he himself was engaged in his duties as recorder, that he was not invited to the board room at the meeting, and that members present are hostile to him and that action was the result of malice.

What course will be pursued by the trustees is not known. Meanwhile Black occupies his old office and keeps himself busy as city recorder.

Watterson on Bryan.

It would be probably more difficult to mix oil and water than to harmonize the political views of Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal and William Jennings Bryan. No one, in or out of the Democratic party, assailed Bryan's Madison-Square Garden speech and his expressed views on the ownership of railroads by the Federal and State governments with greater vigor or bitterness than Watterson. Later Bryan is represented to have modified his views in so far as to assert that they were offered tentatively, and Watterson has admitted that whether Bryan's party policy is right or wrong he feels impelled to follow his leadership as Hobson's choice; in other words, that the Democratic party is reduced to that condition wherein it contains no other leader who can command a following, whether the road leads to victory or defeat, as it did to the latter in 1896 and 1900. There is something in the nature of despair in the following statement of the situation which Watterson makes in a recent issue of the Courier-Journal in a lengthy editorial under the caption "Figuratively Speaking":

"It was the glory of Jefferson that 'he did not bite off more than he could chew.' So was this the glory of Jackson. Mr. Bryan should turn again to the history of both. He stands as their successor in leadership. He is our captain. If we cannot unite on him, we can unite on no one. If we cannot elect him, we can elect no one. Is he not big enough and broad enough to see that the country wants the stables cleaned, not destroyed — that the old house is yet good enough to live in and must not be torn down in any event—the keep and furnishings mostly at fault, not the walls, or wainscoting or general style of architecture—and that whatever changes we make must take due regard for habits and customs that may not be brushed away like cobwebs, however new the broom and resolute the hands that ply it?"

Watterson then gives the silver-tongued and magnetic Nebraskan a thrust under the ribs with the point of his trenchant pen in the following significant and biting language:

"In politics, as in war, success sets the standard. What good the general, however he fights and whatever his intention, who only loses battles? Mr. Bryan should not deceive himself. It is because the mass and body of Democrats believe that it is in him, as in none other, to win the next Presidential battle that they rally to him. If it be lost, through fail. of his, that will be the end of him as of Democracy, and we shall see the advent of an era of Extremism such as preceded the War of Secession, the issue, instead of Freedom and Slavery."

Watterson does not favor anything in the nature of the revolutionary processes advocated by Bryan, as the following shows:

"The country is certainly in no present mood for revolution. The people at large do not want or need a revolution. * * * Public ownership of the railways involves not only a revolution, but a preposterous revolution. It means centralization, federalism, officialism carried to lengths undreamed of by Frederick, by Napoleon and by Hamilton. It would work a change as sweeping as the abolition of property in land, or the election of the President for life. Was Mr. Bryan bound to open up such a discussion with the situation full of living issues to meet and dispose of? Can he think that the support of the faction of Socialists, who strike out so heedlessly and make so much noise, is essential to our success in 1908? Is not the field as it is sufficient to our hand without going to the wood for timber, quitting the ready plow to take to the waiting ax handle? Have we not the last ten years made breaks enough?"

For all that with the blind fatuity which governs the Democracy in every policy it adopts and every act it performs, Watterson, true to his party instincts, accepts the situation and concedes Bryan's paramountcy in the councils of his party in the following declaration:

"The Courier-Journal wishes to speak with proper courtesy, kindness and respect; but also with becoming sincerity and earnestness; because we accept Mr. Bryan's leadership unreservedly, have considered no alternative, shall labor unceasingly for his election and truly want him elected."

At the same time, the futility of Bryan's candidacy is thus recognized:

"That he never can be elected, and ought not to be nominated, on a platform of public ownership is our fixed belief. It is a remedy for no existing evil. It is at war with the philosophy sought by Jefferson, by Jackson and by Mr. Bryan himself. The suggestion is enough to make the Sage of Monticello turn over in his grave, Old Hickory to sit up in his coffin, angels to weep and demons to laugh; a consummation impossible of attainment except through despotism, degradation and ruin."

Watterson is undoubtedly acting as spokesman for the Southern Democracy, and it is an open question whether Bryan, with all of his plausibility and eloquence, will be able to turn the tide in that section in his favor during the tour he is about to make through the Southern States. The legend of the Kilkenny cats is evidently about to be exemplified by the Democracy in the coming campaign. Watterson and his following, ably seconded by Roger Sullivan of Illinois, will undoubtedly carry knives in their boot legs which will be effectively used at the right time and place, under the cover of pretended fealty, to destroy the Democratic standard-bearer, assuming that Bryan is honored with the party election, which is now regarded as foreordained."

No matter how some people may regard it, Oakland has a manifest destiny which she must fulfill. The city is really up against the proposition now and must meet it in the right way with a progressive spirit.

The footpad and the bicycle thief continue in unpleasant evidence in this city. The rogues that infested San Francisco before the conflagration seem to have found a congenial asylum here as well as the honest refugees who fled hither to escape the consequences of the great disaster. The latter are a welcome addition to the community, but some means must be devised to exterminate the former.

"The ever faithful isle," as the Spaniards at one time lovingly named Cuba, is now "ever faithful" only to the spirit of revolution which had taken possession of it long before Spain's sovereignty ceased, and it is apparently as active, restless and insistent under the democratic rule of a republic as it was when under monarchical control. The present disturbed condition of the island, which has necessitated the declaration by President Palma of a state of siege, will doubtless lead many disinterested observers of the current of events to foster the conviction that its people are not yet wholly fitted for self-government."

A Sensational Yarn Refuted.

Some one started the silly tale several months ago that the French government contemplated selling the Society Islands and that Great Britain was negotiating for their purchase. Improbable as was the story, it was credited in some quarters. The report was based on the French government's withdrawal of military and naval forces from the archipelago, followed almost immediately afterward by a visit to the harbor of Tahiti by two British war vessels. Both incidents were easily explained on reasonable grounds which did not involve in any sense a change of sovereignty over the group. The withdrawal of the military and naval forces was in the interest of economy. The islands were in a perfect state of peace, as they have been since the French first established a protectorate over them, hence the maintenance of a garrison there was unnecessary. Furthermore, the friendly understanding reached by the French government with that of Great Britain gave the former assurance prospectively of a long era of peace. There was, therefore, no need of keeping a naval patrol in the waters of these island possessions. The visit of the British warships to Tahiti was, of course, simply an insignificant incident of an ordinary naval cruise, which at any other time would not have attracted any attention.

All of the sensation has been taken out of the story, however, by a positive official denial of the intention of the French government to part with the group. The Society Islands constitute in reality the most valuable asset France possesses today in the South Pacific ocean, and in these times of commercial development, along the shores and among the archipelagos of the Pacific Ocean, none of the great commercial nations is willing to surrender any of its possessions there. France is much more likely to make an effort to extend her South Sea sovereignty than she is to contract its boundaries.

A Los Angeles fireman has temporarily resigned his position because he "cannot behave himself." That man is too frank and honest to be wholly bad and irredeemable.

The importation of strike-breakers and non-unionists to settle a labor controversy between employer and employee is producing the customary results in San Francisco.

The new misnamed working blood introduced to break the carmen's strike in San Francisco might have been of great service to the city in the work of rehabilitation, if it had only been of the right temper. But now that the contention between the unions and the United Railways Company is in a fair way of adjustment, its true fighting nature is being revealed, and its flow must be diverted eastward in the interest of peace. Professional fighters are seldom of any value as industrial agents.

IN EXILE.

(Lines suggested by a southern sunset.)

It was near the golden sunset

Of a calm October day,

Mirrored were the slanting sunbeams

On the bosom of a bay.

Piled all around were purple mountains,

Framed in atmosphere of gold,

Melting in the myriad glories

Which a southern sunset fold!

It was near the blue Pacific,—

Main of the enchanted isles,

Crown'd with myrtle, pain and spices,

Deck'd by Nature's brightest smiles,—

That an exile, lonely, weary,

Stood upon the shell-strewn shore,

Little heeding all the beauty

Which the southern landscape wore.

Like the nautilus, fair, frail thing

That across the ocean wide,

Menac'd by ten thousand perils,

Shoreward speeds upon the tide;

So his soul, on mem'ry's surges,

Drifts to a far-distant strand:

Victor over time and distance,

Lo, he sees his native land!

Bold green head-lands, haunts of sea-birds,

Stand around a shelter'd bay,

On whose tranquil shores his childhood

Spent its brief, but blissful day.

There his blithesome boyhood sported,

There, in youth, he lov'd to roam,

There romance's fairy vision

Dawn'd on him,—and there his home!

There, too, 'tis the peaceful waning

Of a still October eve.

Shy-eyed Twilight drops the curtain

Which the shadows gray enweave

Fishing craft are homeward gliding.

Spectre-like, at close of day:

All lies wrapp'd in stilly slumber

Round thy coast-swept Galway Bay!

Dreamy are the low pulsations

Of the tide along thy shore.

Fitting clime for love to bloom in,

Fitting time to tell it o'er.

But the clime and time have vanish'd

From you dreamer on the strand;

And alone, unlov'd he wanders

In a fair but foreign land.

And the golden, sunny southland,—

What are all its charms to me!

Golden hands but golden dreams are,—

Fantasies that please the free.

Yon lone exile knows how true 'tis

That, though round the world he roams,

Ne'er shall he find clime as fair as

That which shelters "Home, Sweet Home!"

BEATING ENDS
IN HIS DEATH

Young John Hoffman, Who Was Attacked by Newsboys, Dies at Hospital.

Death has sealed the lips of young John Hoffman, that had a harrowing tale of assault and murder by several San Francisco newsboys. On his deathbed the youth was reticent as to the cause of the injuries which resulted in his demise Monday at the Fabiola hospital.

The father of the boy, Louis Hoffman, the veteran fireman of this city, who is now connected with Hove Company, No. 3, is confident that his son's death was the result of an attack on the youth by several boys in San Francisco a few weeks before his son passed away.

Hoffman lived with his parents at 1115 S. Street, and went to San Francisco each day to sell papers. The newsboys each day took offense at having an Oakland competitor in the field, and it is said that those who inspired to make young Hoffman abandon the San Francisco newsboys.

One day, two weeks ago, the young ruffian provoked a quarrel with Hoffman and attacked him. The youth stood his ground and defended himself. He was struck down by his assailants and painfully injured.

The boy escaped from his persecutors and returned to his home in this city. From that time on he began to fail and his illness became serious. The lad's affliction was a puzzle to the doctors in attendance, and he was removed from his home to Fabiola hospital for treatment. Hoffman died of no avail, and young Hoffman passed away without revealing the names of his assailants, whose blows the doctors and father of the boy believe caused internal injuries, which resulted in the death of the sturdy young lad of thirteen years.

Hoffman seemed to be partially paralyzed, and the doctors have given the cause of his death as paralysis.

The authorities have not been notified by Hoffman's father, as he does not believe that his son's murderers can be brought to justice, as no clue was left in the deceased lad as to their identity.

The funeral of the murdered boy is to be held tomorrow from a local undertaking parlor.

DENIES THE MOTION TO VACATE ORDER

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Judge Sheldon of the Supreme Court yesterday denied the motion to vacate the order, which referred to an auditor the suit of C. K. Abbott against Henry H. Rogers of New York, and directed him to recover $50,000.00 for alleged breach of a contract under which royalties were to be paid on account of a secret process rendering petroleum products non-explosive. The contract is said to have been made by Rogers and his former partner, C. M. Pratt, with Benj. Greenough, the inventor. The plaintiff, as assignee of the claim, seeks to recover the amount alleged to be due.

Beer is a
Temperance Drink

Statistics Will Show that Its Increasing Sales Bring a Corresponding Decrease in Drunkenness.

To show the effect of beer drinking on the health, Dr. P. Bauer of Berlin a distinguished German scientist and professor, made a report on the health of the twenty-five employees of the German brewery. This report is of especial interest just at this time because of the increasing popularity of beer in the United States, as shown by the recent report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that during the past year the people of the United States drank 160,000,000 more gallons of beer than during any other year in the history of the nation, and there is less intemperance than ever before.

In speaking of the results of his investigation, Dr. Bauer said:

"Of the seventy-five employees, each of whom drinks over a gallon of beer daily, fifty-six have stood the rigid physical examination for enrollment in the German Army and are soldiers; of the remaining thirty-nine, twelve salaried workers were found too small in stature and too weak to be accepted for defects suffered by accident."

Leading physicians have said there is no doubt whatever of the healthfulness of good beer and most of them recommend it. Dr. Bauer said that beer, the soul of beer, gives it certain food value, and the small percentage of alcohol, only three and one-half per cent in Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, is an aid to digestion.

In the brewing of beer, the richer the malt, more wholesome the beer. Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is brewed only from Pabst exclusive eight-day malt, choice imported hops and pure water.

Pabst exclusive eight-day malt is grown from finely selected barley and grown slowly, without heat, under favorable conditions so that the malt retains all the food elements of the grain in pre-digested form. This is what makes Pabst Beer the superior of all beers in food strength. It is always absolutely pure and the most refreshing and nourishing beverage, the best beer for the home.

Many of the mines closed down for the afternoon shift to allow the miners to attend, as the owners believed that a full attendance would result in the repudiation of the Industrial Workers of the World by the miners organization.

The meeting was attended by 120 miners, who carried on their shoulders a flag which was held in the arena as a signal for the Gans-Nelson fight.

The meeting lasted all afternoon and late into the evening, with the result that the miners voted to continue to recognize the Industrial Workers of the World.

The Ladies' Relief society announces an elaborate out-door fete to be given during the afternoon and evening of Saturday, October 6, at Idora park. The affair is to assist in the construction of the children's home, since the little ones have been in tents since their home was destroyed by fire and it is imperative that they be properly housed before winter.

The Ladies' Relief society is the oldest charity in the city and has done efficient work since the recent disaster. The fete will doubtless be of interest to a large number of friends and plans are being made to attract an attendance from both sides of the bay. The officers of the society include Miss Matilda Brown, Mrs. Jefferson Manry, Mrs. K. C. Radford, Mrs. Spencer Browne, Miss Jessie Campbell and Mrs. A. E. Miner.

AN ENGAGEMENT.
The engagement is just made public by John McNear, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear, and Mrs.

Wilma Greenwood, whose home is southern California. Mrs. Greenwood is a charming widow with many friends here, who are planning to entertain her on her arrival here. The marriage, which is to be a very quiet affair, takes place the last of this month, and is to be solemnized in the south, and after an extended honeymoon, the two will make their home in Oak-

DOVER, Del., Sept. 12.—A young mother dropped dead here this afternoon while working for her husband. Mrs. Mary E. Darling was engaged on her return from her farm home to carry into effect the plans she had formed for her children. She had had a hard day's work when she suddenly swooned, held up and fell back dead from her chair.

"TEX" OFFERS FINE FIGHT IN STORE FOR FANS $30,000 FOR FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—"Tex" Rickard, the picturesque fight promoter of Goldfield Nev. still holds the center of the stage pugilistic. He made an offer yesterday which will supply the followers of boxing with material for discussion for some time to come.

He made an offer of another $30,000 purse for Gans and Nelson for a fight to take place in Goldfield in January. The great arena in which was staged the Labor Day fight will be covered and made into a comfortable pavilion in which events of all kinds can be held.

While Rickard had his fighting clothes on he offered to make two bets which will be known as "dismalations." He expressed his willingness to wager $10,000 that Gans cannot defeat Nelson in twenty rounds, and another $10,000 that Nelson can defeat any white man now in the ring.

It is possible Jimmy Britt will want to take on the last offer, while Manager Jim Coffroth might go after it with Willie Fitzgerald.

There are many angles to the offer of another big purse for Gans and Nelson. It is doubtful if Gans would agree to the terms imposed by Manager Nolan in the last match. There would have to be a little leeway as to no rights and rules other than those inogue last week, would undoubtedly govern. As Nelson has expressed a desire to meet Gans again, and as the latter is satisfied he can beat the Dane it should be easy to make the match.

FIGHT PICTURES.

There will be a private exhibition at the Colonial theater on McAllister street near Jones' tonight of the moving pictures of the fight at Goldfield. The entire forty-two rounds will be shown. After the exhibition the rounds which contain but little action will be cut out and the films will show about twenty rounds. These will be placed on public exhibition for the first time on Saturday night at Dreamland pavilion, Post and Steiner streets. Manager Nolan will handle the films in the middle west, with headquarters at Chicago.

O'BRIEN ARRIVES.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien reached here last night en route to Australia where he is matched to fight Bill Squires. He is at the present time a night trust and the Goldfield men have decided not to bid against one another for the proposed fight between O'Brien and Berger. The trust offered $1,000 for the fight, and will go no higher. This is the amount the boxers decided at first they would be willing to fight for.

HANLON'S PREPARATIONS.

Frank McDonald, who trained Joe Gans, reached San Rafael yesterday to take charge of Eddie Hanlon's training preparations. Morris Levy announced the Hanlon-Hyland prices yesterday. These will be $1 (in the gallery) $3 $5 and $7.50.

ECZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH-ITCHING INTENSE

Eczema is a tormenting, stubborn disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purify the system of all foreign matters absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotions etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.

S.S. goes down into the blood, cleanses the circulation of all acids and humors, builds up the thin, sour blood and by removing every vestige of the cause cures Eczema permanently.

The irritating eruptions disappear, the itching and burning cease, and the acidfired skin, being fed by a fresh, cooling stream of blood becomes soft and smooth again. S.S. is made of healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks that will not damage any part of the system.

Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free.

YOUNG CHOYNISKI,

Who is to Meet Henry League at the Reliance Club Friday Night.

The members of the fight fraternity of the bay cities and they are many at the present time have a treat in store next Friday night when Henry League ties conclusions with Young Choynski at the Reliance Athletic club.

This main event will be occasioned more comment than any of the goes that have been carded in Oakland in age. There is little need to introduce League to the sporting community. His name is synonymous for clear fast and clean fighting and to his credit, Henry, has defeated many men who were recognized lights of the ring.

CHARGES THERE IS GRAFT IN SPRINKLING DEPARTMENT

FIFTEEN MEMBERS OF THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE WERE PRESENT AT THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE ASSOCIATION LAST NIGHT AND SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS OCCUPIED THE ATTENTION OF THE BODY. DIRECTOR HOFFMAN SCATHINGLY ARRANGED THE STREET SPRINKLING BRANCH OF THE STREET DEPARTMENT, CHARGING GRAFT. EXHAUSTIVE DISCUSSION WAS GIVEN TO THE PROPOSED ORGANIZATION IN THIS CITY OF A BRANCH OF THE NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL PEACE ASSOCIATION; PROGRESS WAS REPORTED ON THE PLANS FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF THE MEMBERS OF THE STATE GROCERS' ASSOCIATION, WHICH WILL HOLD ITS CONVENTION HERE SEPTEMBER 24 AND 25, AND QUICKE MAIL SERVICE FROM POINTS SOUTH OF SAN JOSE IS A POSSIBILITY. SEVERAL OTHER SUBJECTS OF MINOR IMPORT WERE DISPOSED OF. DIRECTOR A. H. SCHLEUTER CALLED THE MEETING TO ORDER, BUT RESIGNED THE CHAIR IN FAVOR OF HERMAN GARD WHEN THE LATTER MADE HIS APPEARANCE SHORTLY AFTERWARDS.

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL PEACE ASSOCIATION DISCUSSED.

Fact is Discovered That Movement Has Not Been Endorsed by Labor Unions.

Unless the various labor organizations of this city send committees to the meeting called for Wednesday evening, September 19, to consider the advisability of forming in Oakland a branch of the National Industrial Peace Association, it was the general opinion of the members of the Merchants' Exchange at its meeting last night that the movement would be unsuccessful. No little discussion was given to the project, the object of which is to endeavor to settle all differences and disputes in industrial matters by arbitration as far as possible.

H. Scullin, the official representative of the association in this State, appeared before the board and made an eloquent plea for the establishment of a branch here, and dwelt upon the growth of the movement for peace and the benefits to be derived from furthering its progress.

"I would like the secretary to read my credentials before I address this body," said Scullin, and his request was thereupon granted. The endorsement set forth the object of the peace association, and introduced Scullin as its official representative in this State. It was signed by the mayor of Stockton and several other prominent citizens of that city, including the heads of the chief labor organizations.

"In asking the secretary to read my credentials I had an object in view, gentlemen," Scullin began. "Last Saturday a gentleman accused me of using the organization for graft. I never lost my character, so I do not have to look for it, but the insult was entirely uncalled for. I have spent the past six years of my life in this work, and have traveled from coast to coast. I was a member of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce in which city I resided for thirteen years, and I am also a member of Stockton's representative business body. I have been procuring subscriptions for five years, and have secured donations from Archibishop Montgomery, ex-Mayor Phelan, and many other prominent men in your vicinity. I have free transportation from the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads for myself and an assistant, and have secured the co-operation of trades unions throughout the country. I myself am a union carpenter, and it was a blow to me that my purpose should be construed to mean that I was a graftor. In Stockton 200 of the best known merchants and business men in town joined the organization, established there, and in a short time a magazine will be published setting forth the principles of the order. I secured the endorsement of your Chamber of Commerce and your organization here to carry on my work, but as soon as I was insulted I returned your endorsement to you until I could fully satisfy you that I was properly authorized to collect subscriptions in Oakland. Stockton is immune from strikes, and you can be, too. Whether the movement will be a success, time alone can tell, but it will force the labor unions to either come out and show that they are conscientious and sincere in their demands, and are willing to submit them to arbitration, or it will place them in an unfavorable light before the public by reflecting on the principles of the order."

"The chairman ought to do his duty," interposed Acting President Gard. "I have done it and done so strongly," retorted Hoffman, who, when the discussion had died down, was instructed to get the committee together and investigate the matter. The delay was caused by the secretary in looking up the names of the members of the committee induced H. C. Howard to suggest that the exchange purchase a new system to facilitate the finding of live witnesses, but Walker stated that he had a list of them in order and it did not require the cards.

"Either the street superintendent is negligent or there is something wrong in the department," said Hoffman to THE TRIBUNE representative after the meeting had adjourned. "It was only the other day I saw him riding around Golden Gate Park, whereas if I were in his place I would be looking after my own city. The streets are in a bad condition with chuck holes and dust, which reflects on the municipality. Strangers coming here certainly are not impressed with the streets of Oakland, as they are at present. I am not knocking against the city, for I am working as hard as anyone for her welfare, but something should be done and done quickly."

Scullin had made a favorable impression upon the gathering until an unexpected point of view gathered by W. P. Hook caused a division of sentiment among the members.

"Have you the endorsement of the

Owing to the absence of Chairman D. C. Downey of the garbage committee, the report which he was to make went over until the next meeting.

They will then repair to the ban-

DIRECTOR GEO. HOFFMAN SPRINGS SENSATION ON EXCHANGE.

Wants Stringent Methods Adopted for Correction of the Alleged Evil.

Director George Hoffman of the Merchants' Association sprang a sensation at the meeting of the organization last night when he openly declared that there was grafting in the street sprinkling department. The charge came as a surprise, but Hoffman reiterated his statement.

"Some time ago," he said, "a committee was appointed to investigate the present system of street sprinkling and render a report. It was understood that we were trying to remedy the situation that then existed. The other day I had some trouble at my place of business, Fifth avenue and East Sixteenth street. A sprinkling cart drove along Fifth avenue and then turned into Sixteenth street, proceeding along the south side of the roadway. After it had traversed a certain distance it returned on the north side of the street, but instead of watering that side of the thoroughfare as it had to remain as it was, I overhauled the driver and wanted to know why he did not sprinkle the entire street. The reply was, 'Because I do not have to.' They say the knockers are all dead, but I am ready to go on record as a knocker that it is expected."

"You have taken a wrong view of the matter," answered the speaker on the floor. "Stockton is the headquarters of the National Industrial Peace Association in California. All of the money collected in this State is sent to the treasurer of the association there. At the present time we want funds for the success of our magazine which we are about to issue in the near future. We want to educate the American people, for education is everything. Look at the Socialists—they are distributing literature telling their principles, and that literature is printed in eight different languages and scattered broadcast throughout the ranks of the workingmen. It is our purpose to counteract its pernicious influence. The money that I would collect here would go to help the movement generally. It is not a matter of local assistance. Suppose the unions do not endorse the association here with the money we receive from you, it will help other cities and towns in California, and in time the influence will be felt upon your own municipality, and you will win out in the end."

"But we want industrial peace in Oakland, not in Stockton," Mr. Hook declared with emphasis. "Stockton is a rich town; if we subsidized money we would naturally expect that we would use it when the time came for its need."

It was suggested at this point that the invitation extended to the six organizations in this city to send representative committees to a joint meeting on September 19 be read by the secretary and he complied. The communication spoke of the object of the conference, and was addressed to the secretaries of the Central Labor Union, Building Trades Union, the Chamber of Commerce, the Master Builders' Association, the Master Plumbers' Association and the Merchants' Exchange. Craigle Sharr wanted to know if the exchange committee had been approached yet, and was unanswered in the negative. Secretary Walker stating that it was too early yet to receive replies from the other organizations invited, and pending the receipt of communications from them, in the event of their course, it was deemed advisable to postpone the selection until the next meeting. It was eventually decided that the whole matter should go over for a week, and the lengthy discussion was brought to an end by the motion for adjournment.

The chairman ought to do his duty," interposed Acting President Gard. "I have done it and done so strongly," retorted Hoffman, who, when the discussion had died down, was instructed to get the committee together and investigate the matter. The delay was caused by the secretary in looking up the names of the members of the committee induced H. C. Brain fever, vomited great deal, had four doctors, one treated her for one month and two months. March 1st, 1893, to June 1st, 1894, she was paralysed for two years, then she went to a Divine Healer twice a week for one month. BATTLES FOR HIS LIFE WITH BURGLARS

Jacob Medo Finds Robbers in His House.

One of the boldest attempts at burglary in the police annals of this city was that in which two men attempted to rob the house of Jacob Medo, at 1038½ Chester street, West Oakland, yesterday afternoon, about 3:30 o'clock. Medo engaged in a hand-to-hand battle with the two bold burglars and both he and the two men received painful injuries. The police were notified of the attempted burglary, and they expect to have one of the two thieves in custody before long, as they obtained excellent descriptions of the men.

HIT THUG ON HEAD.

During the battle that ensued when the burglars and the owner of the house met face to face, one of the thugs, a short, heavy set man, was struck over the head with a crockery pitcher and the larger one kicked several times about the body by Medo. Medo himself was badly beaten before he finally managed to throw off his assailants and run into the street. At one time, while the men were scruffing on the floor, one of the two thugs managed to get hold of Medo by the throat and nearly succeeded in strangling the pocky restaurateur.

Medo, who conducts a restaurant at 1376 Folsom street, San Francisco, returned to his Oakland home shortly after 3:30 o'clock. On approaching the kitchen door he was surprised to find that it had been kicked in. Passing through the kitchen into the dining-room, Medo proceeded to the bedroom, where he kept a large sum of money. As he entered the room two men sprang at him from the semi-darkness. Medo, though taken unawares, grappled with his assailants, and though the thug numbered two against one he succeeded in landing heavy blows upon their persons.

FIERCE FIGHT.

When pressed too closely, Medo seized a pitcher and struck the smaller of the two desperadoes over the head. The next minute he was battling with the other burglar, who had secured a grip on his throat. Throwing himself at last, and fearing that he might get the worst of the uneven fight if he stayed longer, Medo staggered from the room and sought the aid of friends who lived near. When he returned the burglars had fled. The police have been notified and expect to capture one if not both of Medo's assailants before long.

Medo says there was $800 in the house in cash, but as his wife is not at home he is inclined to believe that the woman has the money with her. He is quite sure that one of the burglars was severely wounded by being struck with the pitcher.

EXPECTED DEATH.

"I was afraid I would be killed or I would not have run," said Medo in speaking of the terrible encounter. "I fought the best I knew how, but the two men were too much for me. I don't believe in kicking a man when he is down, but when I got the big robber on the floor I felt I could kill him. I tried to keep them away, but they kept coming back, and I was afraid for my life. I was not a match for the two of them, and I had to run."

SAY BOSSISM IS GREAT EVIL

Police Arrest Gambling Mongolians and Secure Plenty of Evidence.

A successful raid was conducted on a gambling den at 302 Second street last night by Captain of Police Lynch and Sergeant Bock, and ten Chinese were placed under arrest and $100 secured from the gaming tables. Nine of the Chinese were released on ten dollars bail each while Wong Lung, the bookie, was released on ten dollars bail each while Wong Lung who conducted the game, had to deposit $20 for his release.

Captain Lynch and Sergeant Bock were in Chinatown when they noticed a Chinaman acting suspiciously in front of the building at 302 Second street. It proved that this man was the lookout, to warn the players of impending trouble.

AVOID LOOKOUT.

Lynch and Bock cautiously made their way to the place and rushed past the lookout before he was able to give any sign to the men above. He called to the players but was told to leave and the officers gained the hallway outside the room before the celestials could escape.

There were two doors leading into the room which was raided and Captain Lynch entered one while Sergeant Bock took the other, the latter getting his hand painfully bruised by one of the Chinamen banging the door against it.

When the officers broke into the room they found a scene of confusion. The suddenly aroused players scurried in every direction in order to get away and some few did make their escape by means of an upper chamber. The remaining instruments were still in plain sight and the presence of money showed that the game had not been played for mere fun.

On this committee were appointed Judge M. T. Coonan, F. O. Flindlay, J. H. Call, Edward White, T. J. Geary, T. O. Toland, Judge Farrar, T. B. Curtis, W. O. Lourens and L. F. Syrington.

The various platforms and individual planks were read, and just before midnight the committee adjourned to 8 o'clock this morning, leaving the sub-committee to perform its labors during the night. At an early hour this morning the platform had not been completed by the sub-committee.

The principal features of the platform read briefly are as follows:

Endorsement of Roosevelt's policy with regard to railroad rate legislation.

A eulogistic endorsement of William J. Bryan, "the foremost American citizen."

Favors importation of building material for San Francisco free of duty.

Denounces railroad monopoly.

Favors the exclusion of Mongolian labor of all classes, laying particular stress on the Japanese and Koreans.

Opposes employment of the navy to collect debts.

Endorses the national irrigation law.

Favors improvement of the navigability of rivers.

Denounces the "sheltering stand-pat" policy of the Republican party with regard to trusts.

Favors radical changes in fire insurance laws.

Favors direct primaries.

Favors election of United States senators by direct vote.

Favors the maintenance of a State agricultural college.

Opposes the present system of ballot, as a "trick ballot" giving power to political machines.

Favors entrances of competing railroads into the city.

Denounces bossism as the greatest evil of the party system.

Denounces actions of the Republican party in Santa Cruz convention and elsewhere.

Opposes dragging of judicial nominations into trade or barter for other offices.

Democrats in Convention Say Such is Fact in Platform Being Prepared.

SACRAMENTO Sept. 12.—The committee on platform and resolutions met and organized. Judge Trask of San Francisco was chairman by appointment, and C. F. Kimball of Shasta county was chosen secretary.

After discussion as to the best method of procedure, it was decided that platforms drawn up by Judge Trask, Judge Peter J. Shields of Sacramento, E. B. Leake of Woodland, M. T. Cooley of Mendocino county and Joseph Call of Los Angeles should be read together with separate planks which member delegations introduced and that each platform be entitled to a sub-committee of ten which should consider the various documents and report a platform back to the committee.

On this committee were appointed Judge M. T. Coonan, F. O. Flindlay, J. H. Call, Edward White, T. J. Geary, T. O. Toland, Judge Farrar, T. B. Curtis, W. O. Lourens and L. F. Syrington.
